If they make a road going version like that, it'll sell no problem !!!

That is badass! I would love to see that wearing an MR2 badge. Ok it has an electric engine in the front but maybe they could call it an MR2+ or something :D

Would love to see one of those running an enhanced 3SGTE (i.e. vvti 3sgte, T3 turbo, factory programmable ECU) - I would buy!!!

The engine lid cover looks very like an Mk2 spider from the back.

It's nice looking but I prefer the SW20.

I agree about the look of the SW20 Spider from the rear.

From the front I keep thinking that it has a MX5 look about it.

Did anyone get any footage from the Nurburgring 24hr? I wonder did it run as I can't find anything on youtube etc..

I did find this which is an interesting vid about concept 1:

Going by the FT86 - maybe we will see the GRMN in 2013?

Will be great to see FT86's driving around actually.

Nope. I cannot describe how horrible it looks. It looks like halfords were given a Peugeot to go Mad on.

i'm on board with you. :) it look too much like the mrs (spdyer)

why can't they pick the mkII body style and work from there. the way i see it. if it sell. keep it that way.
