Posted by CarBen Fibre Creations - 2011/01/10 14:17

AbFlug Styler Arches in FRP

RRP: £160

Plus postage

Information:

Our wide arches will bolt/rivet straight onto your SW20 giving you a bit of extra width for wider wheels and tyres. The arches are made from fibreglass and will come with little, if any, extra work needed to fit flush to the bodywork.

Unlike the original arches ours will be made to sit against the standard body of the SW20 and follow the lines of the car smoothly.

Photos:

Group Buy Information:

At the moment the project is on going we are hoping the arches wont take long to make but as you know we like to get things right so as yet I have no ETA. If your interested in the prices and would like a set add your name to the list, once I have progress photos and information I will add them to this thread. As always no deposit is needed to secure your name onto the GB list.

As you can see the arch fits really well, where it stops (near clamps) we have decided to extend all the way to bumper and sill so the finish is more smooth with the lines of the car. More photos to follow how you supposed to get the bumper off if something happened it that arch would make life difficult imagine a small job on the bumper it would cost a fortune taking the arch off as well!!

Best way I would advise is rivit the arch to the car this way it can be removed. If your going for the 'smooth' look blending them into the car then yes you will have big problems if something was to happen to the car.

Hi guys the arches are finally complete. I will run the group buy till next weekend, it will close midnight of the 23rd then I will start emailing people so I can send paypal invoices. If you wish to be added onto the group buy or drop out let me know and I will change the list. Any questions, comments, suggestions as always are welcome.

Here are the photos:

The arches have been added to our demo car, they have been taped on but the photos give you a good idea of what they'll look like once installed correctly.

Hi I know this thread is old but are the arches still available, plus could you tell me the name of the body kit on the red Mr2 above and any ideas where I could get my hands on one

Its the ABflug kit.

You can still get these arches off www.carbenfibrecreations.co.uk

And you can get a replica of the kit off ebay UK.
