

Any Nardi steering wheel users?

Hi Guys,

Looking to upgrade my steering wheel to a Nardi one but not sure yet what hub should I use. I think I could use some momo+pcd adapter or some other brand, but not sure which would fit my REV3.

I want the steering wheel positioned either at the same distance to the dash or closer to it.

These are the 3 which I would choose from. First 2 is flat, the 3rd is 60mm deep dish style.

I think I like the 3rd one most, since its deep dish style. Of course this is the very one which could sit further away from the dash. Anyone has experience with these deep dish ones?

As I said, the first priority is to have the new steering wheel positioned at the same or closer to the dash.

I found this slim hub, but its only compatible with REV1 and 2...according to the description. I have a REV3 Turbo.

Thanks

The HKB boss also feels very sturdy, also like the non accordion style cover.

I had seen this thread and meant to measure mine for you but totally forgot in the mean time.
Best of luck with it, looks very well

Thanks anyway mate!

Got it installed, its only 10-15mm closer to me as the original so I can easily coop with that.
I like the 350mm diameter, I'm happy I didn't go with 330mm.
