As some of you are probably aware of that Photobucket is no longer free to use and that they want $200 a year.

So what is the next best site that I can use to host my photos ?

I've used IMGUR for the past few years.

I find it much less bloated than Photobucket and the mobile app is excellent

On your Imgur account select the image you would like to post and then select BBCode (message boards & forums) copy.

Then paste your image on this forum.

Thanks Marty, any idea if you can do it from the phone app as I try not to open the work laptop when I'm home as I always end up going down a rabbit hole of work
