MR2 Drivers is an independant site launched with the view to unite Toyota MR2 owners and enthusiasts throughout Ireland with the global MR2 community.

On the site you will find tech articles, buy and sell areas, details on upcomingl Irish events and links/recommendations to International vendors who can help to maintain and improve the performance of your MR2.

If you are in Ireland and are looking for information buying, selling, or maintaining an MR2, this is the place for you.

The Toyota MR2 was a very popular car in many countries for several decades. This popularity has increased in recent years whereby as the cars have aged, they have become classic and more affordable for a younger and more enthusiastic generation of owners.

Got a question? There are many forums and international sites dedicated to the MR2, if you have a problem or need assistance with your 2, chances are someone has seen it before. You can try to find the answer in our forum, or alternatively try one of these other great resources:
