

Fujimura side skirts

Posted by cs1980 - 2013/10/03 22:01

I searched everywhere for these sideskirts after i seen them in the Hyper Rev catalogue. I tried to import them from Japan but they were available nowhere, and i mean NOWHERE. I even had my Japanese contact search for me, to no avail.

In the end, i couldn't believe my luck when i seen Infamous advertise what i've been searching for in pretty much my own back yard! A circa 180 mile round trip later and i had them. :laugh:

I've since had a change of plans (i've been through at least 5 sets of sideskirts on my car, which still isn't painted lol), and doubt i'll be building another MR2 after this one (sold all my other MR2s this year), so no point in holding onto these.

Doubtful you will see another set for sale for a LONG time, incredibly rare pieces.

Just looking to get what i paid for them back which including fuel costs (Impreza, not much more than 25mpg :dry:) amounts to around £120 i reckon.

Located about 10 miles outside of Belfast, but can post!

These are currently in Lee-sw20's garage, i forgot all about them until i was down last weekend. Hopefully he will be so kind to post some photos of the actual skirts. They are in excellent condition.

They are currently painted white.

£100 anyone? Bargain for some ultra rare JDM parts. Not cheap ebay replica shit that most people put on their cars.

Hmmm I'd be interested too! Realy got to pay attention to this section... I saw a set of TOMS sideskirts on st182r's when I was fitting a quieter exhaust and a nice set of skirts seriously compliments the car well ! Plus there white and I've Tein suspension !
How much for postage to me in Cork?
