

ECU for Celica GT 3SGE engine

Guys got a bit of a problem, got my 91 MR2 with a blown 3SFE engine, got a 3SGE replacement engine out of a 97 Celica GT but..... My lad went to bring back the engine and forgot the ECU and loom so im in the Khazi and now the bits have gone into the crusher. Does anyone know if I can match this engine to any existing MR2 set up? :(

You will need to swap the alternator around to the back.
Use the mr2 wiring harness and ecu.
Celica ones have different connectors.

No Problem .. I have it ready to go here ..

You can keep the 4 yr old ... I have 2 x 2 1/2 yr old boys that have learned the word no and have decided that tantrums are the way forward ..

Oh dear the net is playing up now. Do you have a paypal account Japohara? or do you know a local courier service? I have tried DPD of Ireland but their website is not working.

Hi, Japohara, sorry mate I should of got back to you sooner, I managed to get a Celica GT same year ECU they say that is the way to go with this engine swap, trouble is I have to find another loom that is compatible with this system. Now I have most of the bits but needing the last piece. My main concern now is to find out which is the right loom to go with the set up, Ive asked on site but never got a reply as yet. Thanks for your support though it was gratefully received.

Robert
