

Insurance MR2

Posted by Eaasolutions - 2016/06/16 23:05

I have a 1992 mr2. I am 34, male. Who can I get insurance from in Ireland? Can I get classic insurance?

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/06/17 09:31

First Ireland have a classic policy for cars over 25 years old, I use it for my MR2. The only thing is that it's limited mileage and you can't use your car for everyday use (commuting to work etc). If that works for you then give them a call: <http://www.firstireland.ie/> and by the way welcome to MR2.ie :)

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Rex Banner - 2016/06/17 11:16

I've been with Caarol Nash since I was 23 on the MR2, seem to be the cheapest by far.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Steve - 2016/06/17 13:07

I am with axa, on a classic policy u could try them aswel, u need another policy in your own name.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Eaasolutions - 2016/06/17 15:31

Thanks all, I will try all these.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Eaasolutions - 2016/06/17 15:33

Quandry, what are the specs for classic. My car is an import is there any issue with that?

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Mister2 - 2016/06/17 17:31

mine is a 1993 jap import and I have it insured with Autoline on a classic policy once you have your own insurance on another car (daily driver) and the mr2 is over 20 years old ... that's all that you show need

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/06/20 12:09

Eaasolutions wrote:

Quandry, what are the specs for classic. My car is an import is there any issue with that?

Doesn't seem to be an issue - mine is an import too. If they don't ask theirs no need to mention. I think overall they're a bit more lenient on limited mileage policy's as they're much lower risk.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Touge_MR2 - 2016/06/23 10:59

How's it going lads I've got a quote on first ireland but the only requirement are I'm a member of a vintage club. What would the mr2 fall under if this club is not classified as a vintage club.

Any help. As I've received a quote to bring out and could have it at the terenure show

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/06/24 11:54

Touge_MR2 wrote:

How's it going lads I've got a quote on first ireland but the only requirement are I'm a member of a vintage club. What would the mr2 fall under if this club is not classified as a vintage club.

Any help. As I've received a quote to bring out and could have it at the terenure show

I've sent you a PM with your unique membership number.

If anyone else needs their unique membership number to apply for classic insurance let me know.

cheers,

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by AndrewK - 2016/09/05 14:57

Hi Quandry, I am also shopping around for classic car insurance. May I please have the unique membership number? Thank you.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/09/06 11:16

Hi mate, yes I can send that to you, can you do me a favour and email (admin at mr2.ie) and I will email you back the number.

cheers

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by butler_767 - 2016/09/10 16:30

I didnt realise this club covered us as a classic car club. Can you send me my membership number please

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by KnightRider - 2016/09/10 16:59

Could I also have a number please?

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/09/13 10:41

Hi guys, just sent you on your numbers via PM

=====
Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Steve - 2016/12/22 13:31

Hi, I was with AXA for the last 2yrs on a vintage policy and now for my renewal they are telling me that they will not cover the mr2 anymore, I tried many insurance company's, quote devil, 123, avia, friends first, campion a few others and all saying the same thing can't cover the mr2 anymore, any suggestions

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/12/22 17:31

:/ eek doesn't sound great. Did you call First Ireland? they're a broker so might find some cover for you.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Vegantune - 2016/12/22 20:46

Hi my insurance have just refused to insure my mr2. Can I have the classic car club membership number please

Thanks

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2016/12/23 11:38

Vegantune wrote:

Hi my insurance have just refused to insure my mr2. Can I have the classic car club membership number please

Thanks

I've emailed your unique MR2.ie membership number to the gmail address you registered with.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Steve - 2016/12/23 19:05

Called first Ireland today, yea will insure as vintage as long it's not a jap import, €275 for a 4000 mile limit per year, so hopefully in the new year,thanks for the help Quandry

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Marty J - 2016/12/27 18:40

Steve wrote:

Called first Ireland today, yea will insure as vintage as long it's not a jap import

This is not directed towards you Steve, but I am so pissed off with these insurance companies. ALL MR2 SW20's were manufactured in Japan in the same building. What the hell makes a European spec so different to an import. Maybe some undercoating and a slight difference in styling. It makes my blood boil :groan:

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Steve - 2016/12/28 10:35

Totally agree, all manufactured in Japan,on difference one be in mph the other in km,now nearly all of the companies I rang will not do Toyota at all,as I was saying I was with AXA and went for my renewal and just told they will not cover a mr2 under a vintage policy anymore, our that brand of manufacture

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by slipsliderg - 2016/12/30 22:15

Steve wrote:

Totally agree, all manufactured in Japan,on difference one be in mph the other in km,now nearly all of the companies I rang will not do Toyota at all,as I was saying I was with AXA and went for my renewal and just told they will not cover a mr2 under a vintage policy anymore, our that brand of manufacture

To many Toyotas lasting the test of time for the insurers to be happy about it B)

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by KnightRider - 2017/01/01 09:04

What happens in the futire if no insurance company will insure an mr2?

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Marty J - 2017/01/10 18:19

Isn't that a form of discrimination ?

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by eringobragh - 2017/01/13 11:16

looking forward to this years quote :(...Currently paying €630 Fully Comp

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Danmr2 - 2017/01/23 01:40

I'm in the same boat rang 7 companies for classic insurance and no go toyota are on a black list now and we're fucked if we're new getting in to get insurance if anyone has any useful tips let us know cheers.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by KnightRider - 2017/02/13 06:58

Anyone else have trouble getting insurance?

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Steve - 2017/02/13 13:27

Yea hard enough getting a quote now on the Mr2, myself and another guy got covered by autoline in the north, 3000 miles €250 euro over the phone, vintage policy, I'll put the phone number up this evening when I get home also first Ireland will do vintage on the Mr2 if u already have a policy with them.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Steve - 2017/02/13 21:29

0044-3452303030, autoline u could try them they do 3 different quotes for 1500 miles, 3000 and 5000 miles.

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Mister2 - 2017/04/14 18:33

Hi Quandry,

Can you please provide me with the below for insurance renewal purposes

Membership number :

Expiry date of membership :

Thanks for your help

Noel Mc

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2017/04/19 14:23

Just sent you a PM with requested details.

cheers,

G

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by eringobragh - 2017/04/20 14:38

Quandry wrote:

Just sent you a PM with requested details.

cheers,

G

Would you mind sending me one also - my policy is up end of May

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by eringobragh - 2017/05/09 17:17

...long time customer of 123 (since MR2 inception) -

Renewal €650 - added wife & remove mother as named driver: €585

B) That'll do

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by Quandry - 2017/05/10 09:57

Good deal!

=====

Re: Insurance MR2

Posted by b4ss - 2017/05/10 13:36

Thats a sweet deal - I was with 123.ie since I got my MR2 myself - they were very reasonable, until a claim - now I cant get insurance anywhere on my car except classic, which is perfect for me now :)

T

=====